Honosono, February 14th, 1887.

WITH every desire to take an optimist view of the present situation in Europe, it is impossible to deny the sinister significance of Reuter's last message. Granting that France and Germany may be playing a game of bluff to some extent, it is surely carrying it very far indeed for the French War Minister to order a number of Generals and several buttalions of troops to leave Algeria immediately for France. It is hardly to be supposed that, in time of peace, troops are required more in France than in Algeria, especially having regard to the prolonged and desperate struggles in past years to keep down the restless Algerians. The French troops in Algeria nominally consist of one corps d'armée, numbering about 52,000 men, but if we mistake not a portion of this force has been drafted to Tonquin and Madagascar, and this is not too large for the purpose PLAN OF TOWN AND ENVIRONS OF SINGAPORE. of overawing the hardy Arabs and other races, who-so long resisted Gallic valour and resources. It is indeed difficult to reconcile this intimation—supposing it to be correct with the pacific New Year utterances of President Grevy and M. Gobrer, and in presence of it the query naturally arises, did they protest too much? We hope not, for we would fain believe that the report is a canard set in motion by bear speculators on the Centinental Bourses who have doubtless

> In any case, however, the situation cannot yet be said to have passed out of the critical many and France desire peace, but there is a danger that in the game now being played by General BOULANGER with Prince Bis-MARCE one step too many may be taken and the catastrophe precipitated. The Emperor WILLIAM carnestly wishes to avert a conflict, but, as the Standard, when commenting on His Majesty's New Year address to the officers of the German Army, says :- "That he desires peace as earnestly as any man in Europe there can be no reasonable doubt; but it ed for the coming year :- H. D. Starkey, M.E.Z. certainly does not tend to relieve the anxieties of the hour when we find that he has only a vague aspiration to offer on the subject, while he takes care to remind his Generals, more than once, that the greatness of Germany had been achieved by the Army, and that it still rested with the Army to secure and maintain the fruits of victory." The French papers are not all animated by a tish Government have but few Consuls in this bellicose spirit, and it is to be hoped that such remarks as the following, by M. PAUL DE CASSAGNAC in PAutorité of the 29th Decomber, may not be without effect in counteracting the desire for war amongst French-

You boast that you are ready; you deceive yourselves. You may have soldiers is abundance, plenty of musto assisted, more ordusace than you need. Your officers may force. be equally brave and better trained than they were in-1870. You may have the material means of making war; but you lack the spirit, and that spirit which you lack they possess. Look and see what they have, and what we have not. I see on their side unity of race. unity of Government. Ten peoples gathered round the venerable Emperor, their honour and their glory. The Germans do not find their nation split in halves. and with them one-half does not oppress the other half in its rights, in its future, in its belief. With them the Army is respected, and not flattered, as it is elsewhere. When war does break out the men step out confidently behind their chiefs. They have not to hunt out a commander from among a few shame-faced Generals, expurgated in consequence of our civil discords, conscious of the system of dulation that enfolds them, and trembling at it. Their chief is ready. He is there It is not the favour of demagogues; it is victory that has selected him for his command. The Gorman people can, indeed, say-" We are ready." It is not the number of soldiers, the number of guns, that give it faith in itself. It knows that with money all that is easily obtained. But what the German soldier feels n pride in is the consciousness that if he has to fight he fights for God, Kaiser, and Fatherland, and if he be shot he is spared the disgust of reflecting when he Orders may be sent to Daily Press Office, where | breathes his last that he has lost his life to fatten a hangry band that usurp power, and gratify miscreants They are ready. When you say that you are—you lie to yourself. It is true these opinions are shared neither by the majority of Frenchmen nor yet by foreigners. The London Daily News, writing on the subject, thinks NORTHERN&) Hall & Holtz Co-operative Co. that France has raised her army to a state of efficiency which in the opinion of competent judges it had never before attained, and says that, though it is the fashion to laugh at General Boulanger, be is a vigorous and efficient administrator, who is determined that the military collapse of the Empire shall not overtake the Republic, and who, if he is not immediately prepared with a sufficient number of repeating rifles, will take care that they are not wanting when they are needed. This is doubtless correct. but the very earnestness of his efforts to to find the Gold and Silver ... render the army efficient-is calculated to cause disquiet, even if there were no suspiis a strong personal ambition, which may impel him to make a bid some day for the Distatorable of his country. It is, if we migtake not, the weakness of the French Ministries and the growing power of the French Army that have alarmed the German Chancellor, and led to the increase of the German army. The same causes are doubtless prolonging the present state of incertitude which is so dangerous to the peace of Europe, so detrimental to trade and progress.

At 9 a m. it had fallen one tenth, and continued falling at the rate of one tenth per hour. At noon, we were in a position by acc, of the 48 deg. 58min. N. lat. and 5 deg. 11min. W. long.: barometer then 29in. 50. At 3 p.m., I had the lowest reading of the barometer 29.30in, that is, seven tenths of an inch lower than at 8 a.m. It may have been lower, but I did not see it, as I was not again in the chart room till 8 p.m., when it then registered 29,80in. At 3 p.m., the wind shifted with a terriflo burst to N.N.W. and continued to blow with great violence. Thus we had the former high S.W. sea on our port bow, and the rising N.N.W. sea on our starboard beam, causing the ship to roll and labour heavily, and giving the sea a most ominous appearance. The engines were working dead slow, and the ship was brought to head W.N.W. having the sea on the starboard bow. In this position we did fairly well, but about 5.30 p.m. the wheel chains parted, and the ship fell off into the trough of the sea, which did considerable amount of damage. In trying to secure the rudder, which was swinging about with every sea, the first officer, and two of the men, unfortunately lost their lives. Nothing could be done for the unfortunate men, as the ship was labouring in such a manner, that no one could stand on deck or do anything to get a boat out, even if it could have lived in the sea at the time. Messrs. Chater and Vernon, of Hongkong, stock and share brokers, contracted with Mr. Samuel D. Robinson to sell to him fifty shares in the Luzon Sugar Refining Company, Limited, the sum of $10.1.0, with delivery August 31st. But Mr. Robinson never completed any of the purchases, and in consequence of his inability to perform his part in the said contract the plaintiffs about the end of July, 1833, agreed to take back the shares, on the condition that he should price of the shares and their market value at the time of this arrangement.
